Hello Everyone!

WOOW! What a year & what a season we are having.

2018 is looking promising with events planned and another 12 months ahead to reach for those stars! Please don't hesitate or forget to renew your membership in time for the NEW MSED C PHENOMENON! We are kicking off the 2018 year with local and friendly face Andrea Riedel-Carrison whom is no stranger to the spotlight of showing and newly sponsored by Mt Gambier Horseland. Accompanied by a local favourite for her strength and confidence on the eventing field, Kerry Bowmen. Some may say, "they're local, why travel to Lucindale?" You often take your local stars for granted and may not get as much out of a local lesson compared to being in a clinic atmosphere, your blood gets pumping, you tread upon some wrinkles that may have gone unnoticed before. When joining the MSED C for the Phenomenon you have access to the many eyes and support of that from your peers and professionals to help you iron out those wrinkles, you are never too old to learn something new.

To join these lovely local ladies the MSED C have also acquired Handy Horseman Greg Willoughby, who has so much experience, not only as a showjumper but also with horse a rider, to bring precision into your riding and giving you the confidence to go home knowing that you can do it. Another Handy Dude, Mal Maytom, his list of achievements are a tale of time, he has competed and trained internationally, Mal offers his can-do attitude and expertise in incorporating poles into Dressage. The final hero to add to our list of VIPs is Elizabeth Sobecki, we were very lucky to have heard her introduction to the WEG and representing Australia in the Para-Olympics. Lizi has an amazing "No dream is too big" moto and brings it to the Phenomenon with guns blazing. The MSED C Phenomenon brings us all some motivation for the new year.

Please find club membership forms and more Phenomenon booking forms on either the MSED C website or Facebook.

The MSED C are working together with SEDA putting together the South East Showdown and the MSED C WinterSeries, please note , the MSED C committee would be extremely grateful to have another person join the committee.
